WE NOMINATE

Herbert Smith Bailey Jr., one of the Princeton Community's long-working and long-visioned citizens—a member of the newly constituted Princeton Regional Board of Education, the catalyst for the so-called "Bailey Report" of 1964 and director and editor of Princeton University Press. As key as Bailey's contributions are to the programs he and his equally dedicated associates are shaping for the development of the Borough's and Township's merged schools, it is as one of the country's perceptive publishers that this 45-year old native of New York City is returning to TOWN TOPICS' front page for the second time in this decade.

In an era when there is "wild speculation about the effects on publishing of new technologies, especially computer technology," and when publishing houses are merging with electronics empires (for example, Random House with RCA), Bailey has taken a hard look at this industry and at systems which are perfectable within the next quarter-century. He urges authors and publishers to join the technological revolution in the belief that "with intelligence and planning the new technologies can be used to make good books as ubiquitous as television, to our great cultural benefit" — and yet without creating a wasteland such as television with "its almost unbroken expanse of trivia and pap."

With characteristic candor, whether writing for "Saturday Review" or in discussions, Bailey paints boldly. "What a publisher sells," he stresses, "is not a book but the image of a book. Currently he sells this image as printed paper and bound in cloth or paper at a single manufacturing establishment; in the future he will usually sell the image as reproduced on copying machines at many locations, by remote or local control, on demand. Forward-looking publishers should now begin to develop systems that will allow them to maintain control over the image that they and the author have produced, requiring payment that will recompense both author and publisher, providing incentive for further effort."

While guiding the independent University Press through a dramatic expansion, Bailey, a member of the Advisory Committee on Publication to the Atomic Energy Commission and an officer of the American Book Publishers Council and the Association of American University Presses, has been deeply involved in education and youth programs. A "corrector" in the Township's English Composition Program, working with 7th and 8th graders from 1961 through 1964, and a Boy Scout leader for the past decade, he chaired in 1963 and 1964 the Citizens Committee on Long-Range School Planning for Princeton Township which advocated Township and Borough regionalization.

Bailey was the youngest head of a front-rank university press in this country when named in 1954 as successor to Datus C. Smith Jr. An honors graduate with the Princeton Class of 1942, and a Navy radar specialist in World War II, he brought to the post a remarkable amalgam of abilities. His background, ranging from his studies as an "English major" at Princeton to seven years as the Press' Science Editor, has enabled him to collaborate with physicists and mathematicians, to scan scientific manuscripts from the point of view of the humanist, and to "exercise editorial discrimination independent of publish-or-perish pressures or financial considerations" in the merry-go-round of publishing.

For emphasizing that through books universities and their faculties reach infinitely greater numbers than they can ever hope to teach; for his understanding of the challenges confronting publishing as its structure changes; for his service to Princeton and to the profession of scholarship; he is our nominee as

ARE TEENS CHANGING?
Some Pertinent Answers.
Rogers Carrington entered the yeasty teenage scene here in the fall of 1961, after graduating from Princeton Seminary.

A widening circle of teenagers has found him a source of moral support, a sounding board, a friend, guide and good companion. As director of Youth Associates (formerly Young Life) at 20 Nassau Street, he has baited them out of trouble, encouraged their dreams and acted as mediator between parent and child. There's many a project at Princeton—schools, churches and in the community which developed from a germ of an idea at one of his club sessions.

TOWN TOPICS asked Mr. Carrington to express his views on a number of fundamental questions about today's younger generation. These are his answers.

Q. Are the old authorities losing their grip on the teenager?

A. Something happened in the late Forties and Fifties that has severely changed the situation between adults and teenagers—something radically different from anything that we, or our parents have experienced. Two motion pictures dramatized this change. "Rebel Without a Cause" showed the breakdown in suburban family relationships and the new importance of the teenager's friends, his gang.

Then, "The Blackboard

"TEENAGERS LIVE IN TWO WORLDS, their own, and the adult world," says Rogers Carrington, who first became their friend nearly five years ago on the Princeton High School playing fields. "Most of us hear about their private world and fear it. We know teenagers primarily as they relate to our world." Story, this page. (Ulli Steffler Photo)

Jungle" brought out the breakdown of authority in the schools and the informal codes of teen behavior that have replaced the adult value systems. Their codes may apply to only one or a few groups. Today, teachers are regarded as one voice among many.

Q. What about the churches?

A. Life in the teenage community is throbbing. Nothing radical is going to happen where the church is concerned until the church comes out and works with us to develop ways of teenage leadership.

Q. What do you know, factually, about this?

A. I know that only 9% of the Princeton teenagers polled by Gallup and Robinson in 1963 were involved in a religious activity for more than an hour a week. About 25% of those who signed up for our summer projects this year are not church related in any way.

Those who are, estimate their church involvement at a 0-40-10 scale of values. Basically, we're dealing with the non-church-goer or the quasi-heretic.

Q. Who has authority?

A. Mainly, their peers. The peer group provides some isolation while they are discovering new values. The teenager says to himself, "I'm not seeking individuality; other people I can become but this is going to cost a

Many teenagers were introduced with "The Green Beret

when it came out several years ago. Here is the whole man, totally trained, working in an area where he is not influenced by the past generation. In the process of struggle, he becomes a man and helps others realize their potential.

Q. Are there several clear-cut types of teenagers?

A. Last year—the character of this town is so fluid that I have to note the year—they came in three basic varieties. One group was "concerned about things, held jobs, was motivated. The benefit of this is that they had direction. The danger is that they may not have been as aware of some of the possibilities of this age."

They were perhaps too eager to accept the values of adults. At the other end was the group that decided the goals of adults are irresponsible and they spent 80% of their time in the worthless occupation of rebellion instead of reacting for something important to them, such as, what are the possibilities for this new generation.

And there was a middle group. To them it was not important to be committed to anything. They had a parasite existence.

Consciously or subconsciously, they knew they had about two years to live in this oblivion. It would have been a comfort if they had thrown a brick through a window just to show that they were alive.

Q. What did you mean when you said "something has happened."

A. When you think about it, today's family is scattered into the community, or outside of it, for work, service, education and relaxation. Teenagers find parental figures at home, yes, if the emphasis is on the quality of time spent together.

not the number of hours, and not through solitary chores, the dirty jobs.

Teachers are having to assume new roles and responsibilities. It is not enough to say that smoking is against the rules. They also have to explain who made the rule and why it can't be changed.

Some teachers still feel that education should take place between 8:10 and 3:10. Others see extracurricular time with teenagers as their best opportunity to make the class room lessons real in the life situation. They gain a new kind of authority out of respect, not because of position.

Q. What else?
A. In recent years, Newton's laws are interesting ancient history. In literature, they are taught to think carefully to test the validity of ideas in life situations. History, as we learned it, is factual. Now it is relative, and teenagers understand that they are only reading someone else's interpretation of what happened.

All of this has a way of developing a real skepticism of all authorities. As a father said to me, "When I tell my daughter she can't go out, I know it will mean we will sit down and talk about it and it'll be like a conference at the United Nations."

Q. What is important to the teens today?

A. They care about the interrelationships of people—including parents. They weigh "What kind of a person may I become?"

One girl said to me, "Do you mean, what I know I am going to be like when I am 40 like my mother, or do you mean what I would like to be?"

Q. Do parents understand this?

A. Some do, wonderfully. Yet the father who has adjusted to many technological changes in his job during recent years sometimes keeps the old ways alive at home because they give him a feeling of security.

Q. What do teens need from their parents?

A. Teenagers are likely to take on more responsibility than their parents could imagine. They need parents who will decide with them the very few boundaries as to hours, kinds of dates, and so on. The parent is risking, but at the same time he is breeding responsibility. It boils down to a courteous consideration of one another's rights.

Today's teenager, as John Wood of the National Council of Churches once said, faces most of his hard choices in a world where mom and dad are not, have never been and could not imagine themselves to be.

"DILATORY TACTICS"
Regional Board Charges
Montgomery Township Board of Education was accused on Tuesday by the Princeton Regional Board of "dilatory tactics" in removing its students from Princeton High School.

The Regional Board also received a letter from W. Bradford Craig, president of the West Windsor school board, stating that West Windsor hopes to build its own high school by 1970, the year its sending district contract expires.

Dr. Harvey Rothberg, Regional Board president, implied at Tuesday's public meeting that Plainsboro and Rocky Hill will also be asked to withdraw their students. In answer to a question from a Rocky Hill resident, he said,
"I have no further comment
on Rocky Hill and Plainsboro
until we have had an opportunity to communicate with them. We plan to do so in the near future." Both districts' contracts expire in 1969.

"In A Nuthall" Dr. Roth-berg said in a prepared statement, "Princeton High School was built to accommodate 1500
students. We now have an enrollment of 1,800 students, squeezed into the main building and six relocatable C.I.T.
temporary classrooms.

"This building can comfortably contain all the high school children of Princeton Borough and Princeton Township in the predelictable future.
But it cannot accommodate the outlying sending districts much longer. That is the problem is a nuthall!"

he is also a concert flutist; Princeton undergraduate Javier

of Education Frederick Rau-singer, Dr. Rothberg said,
"The fact is that if they do not begin to think and act more realistically and responsibly
in their planning for the future, then two 'generations'
of high school children will suffer as a consequence of their dilatory tactics."

Double Sessions. Montgomery will have an estimated 554 high school students in 1970, Dr. Rothberg said. The sending district proposed two months ago to begin withdrawal of its students in the Fall of 1967, with all students
phased out by 1971-72.

"This schedule would result in about 2,110 students in Princeton High School in 1970,
a figure which Mr. Michael assures me means a double session." Montgomery now proposes to postpone its withdrawal until 1968, to the Regional Board's alarm. It hopes to complete a new high school by 1970.

After 65 Years, West WindSOR, a Princeton sending district since 1901, "is fully aware of the necessity of moving ahead as quickly as possible with planning for our own
high school facilities," Mr.
Craig wrote to the Regional Board.

"Our hope is to have a high school ready by 1970, but the plans must be drawn carefully and with full realization of the need to develop a strong secondary school system which will serve the needs of our Township in the future."

formally notifying West Wind that its contract would not be renewed in 1970, and that it would welcome an earlier phasing out of West Wind youth and 10th grades.

Housekeeping. It was announced that high school guidance officers would be moved to the administrative wing of the building, where the Borough Board of Education officers were formerly located. This will free more for classroom use. Acting Superintendent John McKenna said Administrative staff will move to the Stony Brook Administration Building on Stockton Road.

Increased salaries were approved for some members of the administration. Dr. Rosenberg said it was not necessary to read the list. The raises were given in view of the individuals' increased responsibilities in the merging of the school districts.

Pupil enrollment as of June 30 was 2,908. Dr. McKenna reported. The figures include Community Park 345, John Park 314, John Witherspoon 384, Littlebrook 561, Riverside 432, Valley Road 459, Princeton High School 1,787, ungraded 9, trainables 5, special schools 5. The John Witherspoon enrollment is about 40 percent of a possible 100 percent of increasing admissions.

Dr. McKenna announced that a new organization table has been developed. Mrs. Dorothy Lammie, former principal of Nassau Street School, will serve as co-director of elementary curriculum in the district's elementary schools. Mrs. Roger McDougall will coordinate the school library services and Dr. Clark will supervise special service programs and Title I and other federal projects of a social or psychological nature.

Committees. The Regional Board has organized itself into four committees. Instruction-Professor Robert A. Lively, chairman, Mrs. Suzanne S. Freeman, Herbert S. Bailey Jr. and Mrs. Arthur Wagner. Finance—David J. Brodsky, chairman, Dr. E. Frederick Laschewer and Charles L. Jaffin, property—Dr. Laschewer, chairman, Mr. Jaffin and Thomas A. Moore; legislative—Mr. Jaffin, chairman, and Mrs. Wagner.

Regional Board personnel policies were approved. Board Secretary Norman Anderson announced the Township district ended the school year with a $70,373 surplus, $22,714 of which was set aside in the event that builder K. H. Edwards wins the contract dispute now before the mediation

Weather Man, Read This!

Watch the clouds.
Bring the rain.
Fields spring plowed.
Were sowed in vain.

Crops of all kinds are showing the adverse effect of the lack of rain. An inch fell last week, but it came quickly and much of it was lost in run-off.

Tuesday's predicted showers failed to materialize; despite the arrival of cooler air. Clear skies will continue through the weekend, temperatures will be no higher than normal, and rain? There's none to be had.

board in Philadelphia. Borough unexpended school funds amount to $171,961, although Business Manager William Evans said that debt service, capital outlay earmarked for the John Witherspoon school and such items reduced the surplus to $112,009 in round numbers.

The board has behind it 26 days of intense activity. Coming up is the August 9 session of Quarry Street School.

PDS PARKING DENIED
By Zoning Board. When the Princeton Day School was granted a special permit two months ago to build a skating rink on its campus, it told the Township Zoning Board of Adjustment that an existing 75-car parking lot would be able to handle the limited parking needs generated by the rink.

Last week the Day School approached the Zoning Board to ask for a special permit to construct a 22-car lot adjacent to the rink with an entrance off the Great Road. The proposal was attacked by residents of the Great Road.

Robert Gallick said that the lot's traffic would create noise and be a general nuisance, not in keeping with the residential character of the neighborhood. Paul McKinney said it was "an other encroachment" of the neighborhood. The time to stop such things, he added, is now. In apparent agreement, the board denied the request. It said that PDS had failed to demonstrate need for the parking lot.

In another application involving the Great Road—there were 11 in all heard by the board and acting chairman William Geddes—The Tenacre Foundation was granted a special permit for the construction of a staff residence building. Dr. McKinney voiced his opposition, saying that the grantee of one variance after another was "creeping varietism." The Foundation is located in a residential zone.

Topics Of The Town

The board delayed taking action on a request from a group of developers from Traxfeld led by Louis Sotnick, who asked for a special permit to construct a nursing and convalescent home on five acres on Mount Lucas Road. The land is owned by Dr. Cornelia Jaynes. Previously, the developers had obtained an amendment from the Planning Committee which would allow the land to be designated as a service zone.

David Deitz, Trenton attorney representing Mr. Sotnick, reported the nursing home would contain 100 beds to meet all state and federal requirements for convalescent homes. He said some 12-14 employees would be on duty during the day and half that number at night.

On other points, however, Mr. Deitz was less precise, namely, the design of the facility, parking and the parking of a continuation of Herronstown Road. The board decided to postpone its decision until more specific information on the project was provided.

Car Rental Under Fire. Postponement was its decision on the request of Princeton Maintenance to continue its operation of car rental business, a side operation, the firm was conducting in connection with Hertz Rent-A-Car. Its rental cars are located adjacent to the Pearson Building on Route 206. Township Zoning officer Joseph Shinn had issued a cease and desist order to Princeton Maintenance based on a zoning provision that does not allow businesses that are conducive to noise or to the congregation of cars after dark to exist in a B-2 zone. The Pearson building is located in such a zone.

Bruce French, attorney for the maintenance firm, argued that the firm could be used by either dentist but by an assistant and his family, an arrangement requiring a variance. The dental offices themselves would be constructed in the form of an octagon. This would be parking for 10 cars.

A request for variances in lot areas 32 and 34 with William H. Konecinski, 18 Denney Avenue, to build a home on Providence Line was denied. Residents of Providence Line Road objected, pointing out that Mr. Konecinski should have obtained additional land from his father, an adjacent owner. The Board ruled that apparently there had been no attempt by Mr. Konecinski to acquire additional land from his father.

In another case, the board granted a special permit to Mrs. Ruth Sharon, 50 Deer Path, to use her home to teach art. Mrs. Sharon operated Sharon Studio. It approved a side-yard variance to Carl E. Heim, 207 Mt. Lucas Road, to allow an existing roof overhang to remain and also granted a minor-area variance to permit construction of a one-story addition to the rear.

Also several variances to Mr. and Mrs. Olin D. McGowan, 40 Witherspoon Street, for construction of new home at 158 Philip Drive, and to Princeton Construction Co., New Brunswick, for construction of a new home on the Princeton-Kingston Road.

BASKETBALL BUFF: Tony O'Connor doesn't care when people say, "Hey, ball, where are you going with that hey?" he's only 15 months old, and with all the practice he's getting at the Harrison Street playground, some day he'll hit jump shots regularly from 30 feet out. Tony's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John D. O'Connor, 171 Harrison.

The agency only handled between 10 to 20 cars a day. The cars parked during the night on an average of 15, rented quietly. Any noise at night, he said, came from the Jack and Jill tenant of the Pearson Building.

Residents of nearby Laurel Road in support of Mr. Shinn's action. One described the area as looking like an automobile saleroom at night. Another inveighed against the cheapening of the neighborhood and the "inevitable expansion" if the operation were allowed to remain.

William Sulphur, 6 Laurel Road, pointed out that the Zoning Board would not have any jurisdiction once the rental agency were permitted to exist.

The board made a recommendation to township Committee that a variance sought by Dr. Stephen Bender and Dr. Jack Roemer, both dentists, be granted. The two wish to build a three-story, 380,000 building containing dental facilities at 210-216 Haddon Street. Their offices are currently located at 100 Nassau Street.

According to their attorney, A.C. Reeves Hicks, a planned apartment in the building

What is "Troubled Hair?"

I call hair "troubled" when it suffers from any of the hazards which make it less beautiful than it should be.

When hair looks dull or wispy, dry, harsh, thin, lifeless — when hair is hard to comb through after a shampoo — when you feel the ends prickly as you run your fingers down the hair shaft — when the sun has parched it, when cheap sprays and strong shampoos have dried it out — then hair is "troubled."

In severe cases when the hair has become brittle, broken, matted or split; when the hair has lost its elasticity and feels gummy and spongy to the touch, then it is like this: the rich benefits of professional oil and protein treatments. For treatment your hair needs, visit TAVENWOOD BEAUTY MANOR, 50 Painter Square West, or call 924-3883. We really care about your hair!

new Supreme Court ruling.
Mrs. Hinds was committed to the Mercer County Jail without bail.

A second preliminary hearing has been scheduled for August 17, at which time Magistrate Tamm will hear the evidence against Mrs. Hinds.
Township Detective Fred Porter said that she has been charged with three counts of homicide, pending an examination by a psychiatrist.

Moments after Mrs. Hinds had told deas after Walter Easana, "I've just killed my children, I drowned them in a bath tub," a patrol car and ambulance from the Princeton
First Aid and Rescue Squad
were on the scene. Ptl. David A. Funk and Ptl. Frank Rocunato found David, four months, Mark, 18 months, and Cinz, 4, in the tub. A fourth child, Stephen, was outside,
playing at the time, according to police.

The two officers and John Hillman of the Rescue Squad detected a faint heartbeat in David and gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. He was rushed to Princeton Hospital.

HOSPITAL FUND BENEFITS: A check for $1,500 is presented to the Princeton Hospital Annual Giving Fund by Shell Chemical Co.'s product development center on Quaker Bridge Road. Accepting the gift from H. C. Terford, Shell manager, is Mrs. Catherine Freuler, hospital fund director.
Looking on are George W. Conover (right), hospital president, and V. P. Gorgone, real estate representative for Shell.

in a coma but died 11 hours
later.
Police said that Mrs. Hinds is separated from her husband, Timothy. The children were staying with Mr. Hinds and his sister at 18 Clay Street Saturday and Mrs. Hinds had picked them up to keep them for the afternoon.

Private funeral services for the children were held at a Princeton funeral home, with the Rev. Morris Stokes, pastor of the Mount Pleasant A.M.E. Church officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.
Surviving are the children's maternal grandparents, Mr.
and Mrs. David Graham; their paternal grandfather, P. u l Hinds; their maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Wooding, and their paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Sophia Hinds, all of Princeton.

FIRE GUTS BUILDING
In Cranbury, A three-alarm
fire swept through the Tri-County Lumber and Supply Company on Route 130 in Cranbury on Friday, destroying the interior of the main building. The company's owners, Erwin H. Dreifus of 31 Crestview Drive, could not estimate of damages.
Approximately 80 firemen
from Cranbury, Jamesburg and Hightstown helped fight the blaze, which was declared at 2 a.m. and was finally brought under control two and a half hours later. Richard Spitzer of Jamesburg was treated for burns on both hands suffered in the heat of the fire.

Smoke and flames, shooting
hundreds of feet in the air
were visible for miles and attracted scores of spectators.
Water to fight the fire had to be pumped from the irrigation system of a nearby farm and brought to the scene in pumpers.

The blaze apparently started in an office section of the one-story building and swept through the interior, gutting

corporations for $20 million. At that time he made a $100,000 deposit on the sale.

Since then, Mr. Stavola deposited a half million dollars in escrow with a Long Island bank as part of the cash down payment of $4 million dollars which was due on March 28, 1966.

Closing date of the sale. He will argue in Superior Court on October 17 that the executors and stockholders refused to complete the sale.

Defendants in the suit are executors Blanche Judith Gilbert, widow of Mr. Gilbert; Norma G. Farr, a daughter; Irene L. C. Surina; and the First Trenton National Bank. Stockholders involved include Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Farr, Mrs. Surina, Asa H. Farr, a son-in-law, and Clyde F. Messer.

These defendants are asking the court to declare the original contract null and void, since they contend that Mr. Stavola and his new-formed company, Kingston Trap Rock, Inc., were unable to produce the $3.5 million additional cash required at the time of closing. They seek to return the $100,000 deposit as damages.

In dispute are the Kingston quarry, one of the largest producers of diabase trap rock in U. S. East, valued at $10 million; the Pennington Quarry Co. Quarry Co., $2 million; Trap Rock Industries, Inc., $1.5 million; Rocky Hill Land Co., $2 million; Kingston Bituminous Products, Co., $1 million and Trap Rock, Inc. (of Pennsylvania), $1 million.

A major point of disagreement between the defendant and Mr. Stavola involves ownership of the present stockpile of stone at the quarries.

YOUTH FINED $105
 Stone Throwing, William H. Fortington, 17, 122 Grove Avenue, was fined $100 and $5 court costs Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Yung for throwing stones onto Nassau Street. The motor vehicle charge carries a mandatory minimum fine of that amount.

Five drivers paid fines for speeding. They are Mrs. Olga T. Smith, 53, 320 Western Way, $20; C. M. Jones Jr., 37, Heather Lane, $30; Eugene A. Jackson, 41, Cherry Valley Road, $27; Beverice M. Nawas, 13, 83 Columbia, Hopewell, $24; and David S. Johnson, 19, 600 Calhoun Drive, $25. For driving unregistered vehicles, Miss Clara A. King, 29, 90 Battle Road, and Antonio J. Prociak, 17, 114 Linden Lane, paid $15 each.

Stuart Rider, 221 Witherspoon Street, was fined $15 for late inspection. Mrs. Ruth Edmunds, Province Line Road, and Mrs. Carol Stoddard, 184 Dods Lane, pleaded not guilty to the same offense and each was ordered to pay $5 court costs. Mrs. Barbara Bloch, 41, 50 Jefferson Road, paid $10 for no license in possession.

In Township Court last week Harold Riddell, 58, of West Long Branch, and Cordeiro Walter, 37, 21 Birch Avenue, were fined $25 each as disorderly persons. Both were charged with entering a home on Lehigh Avenue without the owner's permission where they damaged windows and a door.

Dean Matlack, 20, of Trenton, pleaded guilty to two charges of mail larceny. He was sentenced to 24 days in Mercer County Jail but was released because he had already spent that much time in jail waiting for his hearing to come up before Magistrate Glen B. Miller Jr.

Paul Robeson, 19, and Robert Donaldson, 18, both of Trenton, both charged with breaking and entering, were turned over to Mercer County authorities to await action by a Grand Jury. They were charged with Donaldson was also charged with possession of stolen property he had allegedly obtained from a burglary of a Borough service station. Bail for that offense was $200.

APPOINTMENTS MADE
 To Hospital Staff, Dr. Erwin O. Hirsch has been named the first full time director of medical education at Princeton Hospital and Frank X. Schneck has been appointed director of the social service department. The Hospital announced this week.

Dr. Hirsch, a 1948 graduate of Harvard Medical School, will assume his new duties in mid-August. He will be responsible for supervising the resident physicians in the three-year training program of the hospital. He will also be an attending physician on the medical and dental staff.

A native of Vienna, Austria, he will direct recruiting, interviewing and selecting applicants for the Hospital's residency general practice program. He will report to the associate administrative and the chairman of the medical staff resident committee.

Prior to accepting the position at Princeton Hospital, Dr. Hirsch has been the director of medical education at a bed community hospital, an assistant clinical professor of medicine at Seton Hall Medical School and an assistant in medicine at Columbia Medical School. He has also been working with the New Jersey Hospital Association in Princeton as director of a project to evaluate medical internship experience in the state.

As medical education director at Princeton Hospital, Dr. Hirsch will be an ex-officio member of several hospital committees. He lives with his wife and three teenage children.

After receiving a master's degree from Fordham University and a PhD degree from the University of Pennsylvania, he worked as a senior case worker at the Children's Service Center, a private psychiatric clinic in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Topics Of The Town

Pa. In 1964 he became executive director of the Luzerne County Child Welfare Service.
Mr. Schneck is a charter member of the National Association of Social Workers and the Academy of Certified Social Workers. He, his wife and their three children live in a hospital residence on Henry Avenue.

"I BOUGHT A GUITAR,"
—And began to sing. "I've got a tree on my back and when it grows, I'll grow, too."
It's hard to imagine a child who doesn't know what imagination is, but Lea Draffield discovered, when she took her guitar and her folk-songs to Trenton's disadvantaged children, that the concept of "imagination" was alien to many youngsters in her audience.

"That 'Imagination Song' is a great favorite, the one with the line about the tree on my back," Mrs. Draffield says. "I ask the boys and girls to imagine a circle filled with talking animals and talking objects, and then to make up their own lines to a song."

Lea Draffield is petite, sparkling and striking, with richly auburn hair and the softest voice with a young child and a folk song.

"I used to be a girl vocalist with those big bands in the 40's," she smiles, "so when my children were in nursery school, I bought a cheap guitar and decided to go back to singing—this time to the kids."

"I discovered the children were interested in what the songs SAID, so I began using folk songs as a tool, and I got calls from other nursery schools to come and sing to their children."

"Using the songs to draw
the children out—I am excited and stimulated by this concept! So I bought a better guitar."

Freedom Through Singing.
Twice each week, she takes her guitar to one of the nine United Progress pre-kindergarten centers in Trenton. The children are about four years old, boys and girls who will never in the world see the inside of a nursery school.

Shy and inarticulate but frequently very bright, they have relaxed into clearer and freer speech as a result of singing with Lea Draffield.

"I use as many activity songs as possible, because large-muscle activity is so important at this age," Mrs.
Draffield says. "I have them
clap, whistle, creak, yawn—
Everybody do what he wants!
I say sometimes. And it is so wonderful the way they soak
it all up—they are like little sponges."

She always asks everyone's name, and this not only makes a bridge between singer and audience but actually helps these children to establish self-identity. Sometimes there are names that fit beautifully into these rhyming songs Mrs.
Draffield teaches:
"I know a girl named Susie
—she's too choosy." (Imagine the giggles after somebody thought up that line!)

At the beginning, she strums
a song they all know, usually
"Michael, Row The Boat Ashore." Then she gets individual boys and girls to perform in such clausers as "Did You Ever See A Lassie?" and after something vigorously
rhythmic, like Pete Seeger's
"Jim Along Josie," she will have everyone rest with eyes closed while she sings a lulabye. Maybe it's "Hush Little Baby," or a lullaby in Yiddish or Nigerian.

By the end of the half hour,
she is acting out "squirm like a worm" by squirming along the floor herself, with a happy
trail of followers squirming
along behind her.
"I feel like the Pied Piper
sometimes!" she laughs.

Rolling around the floor like a ball, or squirming along the floor like a worm, the children develop self-expression, a sense of freedom—and that priceless thing called "imagination."

Last year, Mrs. Draffield

... INCLUDING CZECHOSLOVAKIAN! Lea Draffield, the Harris Road folk singer, may take her tape recorder to Czechoslovakia this summer to expand her repertoire of folk songs. She already knows 25 Yiddish songs she learned during six years' residence in Roosevelt, N. J., and dozens of others besides. Before she sang in French to a group of disadvantaged Trenton children, they hadn't grasped the concept of "another language." Is folk music a tool? Read Mrs.
Draffield's answer in "Topics of the Town."

FINAL PROGRAM SET
In PHS Summer Music. The closing program of the 15th annual Princeton High School Summer Music Department series will be held Thursday evening at 8 in the school auditorium.

Featured in the final program will be the school band and orchestra, guitar and choral groups and the string quartet and woodwind ensemble. It is open to the public without charge.

The summer session is directed by Sylvan Feldman and William Tegen, assisted by Mrs. Nancianne Purrelli. Other members of the staff are Walter Hommer, Roger McKinney, John Helms, Mrs. Joan Thompson, Mrs. Tille Helms, Joan Cordas and Mrs. Marion Lombard.

Twice The Room
For Park Lane Furniture. John H. Kozlowski, president of Park Lane Furniture Company, announced this week at ground breaking ceremonies for a new building that the company is more than doubling its present show room facilities of its Early American Shop.

The new building will be located opposite the present site of the firm at 1273-83 North Dixie Avenue in Trenton. The new construction will increase space from 24,000 square feet to more than 60,000 square feet, making Park Lane the largest furniture and bedding store in the Delaware Valley.

In the new Early American Shop will be furniture showrooms, a completely equipped cabinet and furniture refinishing shop, a customer service area which will speed deliveries and a carpet and rug workshop.

Space will also be available for conference rooms for civic functions and community affairs, decorating classrooms and for community teen-age activities. The new building, situated in Ewing Township, will be styled with a Colonial facade.

STUNG BY HORNETS
Man Passes Out. Quick-thinking by Robert Benies, 23, a student living at 15 Hibben Road, may have saved his life Saturday morning.
Mr. Benies called the police at 9:35 to say that he had just been bitten by several yellow jackets and that he wasn't feeling well. Sgt. Theodore Lewis and Ptl. Charles Harris responded. Soon after their arrival the victim lost consciousness. They immediately administered oxygen and called an ambulance.

Bitten about the face and legs, Mr. Benies, was given a shot of adrenalin at Princeton Hospital and admitted. He was released later that morning.

PRESSURE IS APPLIED
To Use Union Janitors. Lt. Francis Maguire of the Borough police has revealed that during the past few weeks, there have been reports from merchants and business firms in the Princeton area that they have been told to start using janitorial services which are unionized.

According to Lt. Maguire, the firms are being asked the name of the janitorial service they use. They are then told, "You better start using union labor."

A what-if-we-don't reply is answered by, "We'll take care of you in our own way." Lt.

Maguire said he wanted to make it known that individual stores and firms were "not alone" in this attempt by the union to muscle in. He declared to identify what union was behind the alleged threats.

We want to know about it," said Lt. Maguire. He said the police would appreciate any information. "We don't," said Lt. Maguire. "We don't want to eat up bad light on the tensors in the town. It may not be involved."

STARR TAVERN HIT

By Daylight, tavern was unmarked, armed robbers, one bandishing a sawed-off shotgun, broke into the Starr Tavern, 9 Birch Avenue, Friday afternoon, and then escaped in a stolen car. The robbery was accomplished. Their daring netted them more than $400.

Owner Aaron Starr of Trenton told police that he and two associates were at the bar for almost three hours before the robbery, around 2:30, walked outside and returned shortly with a paper bag. Withdrawing a shotgun from the bag, he shouted, "This is a stickup!" Simultaneously, the second man, a silver pistol in his hand, jumped into the car and scooped $168 from the cash register.

Five customers in the bar at the time were hurried into a washroom by the shotgun bandit who collected $10 from them. He ordered them to remain inside for 15 minutes.

Mrs. Starr, meanwhile, looking down the barrel of a pistol and hearing, "I want more money from you or I'll kill you." Police quoted him as saying he handed over his wallet, a ruler and a watch valued at $100. The pair then forced Mrs. Starr into a washroom and fled.

Detective Fred Porter is conducting the investigation, which is being assisted by Sgt. Anthony Nini and P.I. David Potts.

TWO BECOME CITIZENS

In Trenton Ceremony, Two residents of the Princeton area became United States citizens Tuesday at a ceremony held in the U. S. District Court, Trenton. They were among 40 men and women who took the oath of allegiance before Judge Arthur S. Gladstein.

Included in the group were Mr. Leigh T. Linden Lane, a native of Italy, and Joseph Haddad, Prince to-Hightstown resident, who were last in the group.

SIX (6) BEDROOM TURN-OF-THE-CENTURY house in appealing neighboring town with fine school system. Lay-out, dining room, family room, each with marble fireplace. Full, fenced yard. Spacious occupancy. $38,900.

MELLOW, WARM & SUNNY TOWN HOME on Mercer Street. Stunning Charming entry hall for sitting or fireplace entertaining, easy living room, lovely dining room enhanced by adjoining glassed-in porch, appetizing kitchen, utility-pantry, four pretty bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths. The character and appeal of the house have been enhanced by a recent renovation. Wee garden for pleasure without pain. NEWLY REDUCED to a realistic $64,500.

AN EXCELLENT SPACE-PRICE COMBINATION is this new 3 bedroom Colonial in an adjoining township. Center hall, dining room, family room with cherry paneling, fireplace & beamed ceiling, 2 1/2 baths, 1 1/2 partially wood clad decks. Asking $99,000.

EXCEPTIONAL GROUNDS ON A MOST DESIRABLE WEST END STREET are the prime assets of this pleasant 6 bedroom for 5 plus den! Colonial. Fireplace, hardwood terrace, lovely landscaping. Over 3/4 acre, quite secluded. Asking $99,000.

EARLY AMERICAN FARMHOUSE, tastefully renovated for practical purposes without loss of the original atmosphere. Large welcoming entrance hall (leading to living room), big central fireplace, dining room with another to be opened up, roomy, efficient kitchen which still has the farmstead character, but with mud room, 2 1/2 baths. One very nice area. $37,500.

COMBINED WITH THE ABOVE A 2-STORY BARN with 2 stalls; highly rentable 2 bedroom garage apartment (could be enlarged into a house); one delightful acre. Asking $29,500.

IMMEDIATE POSSESSION is possible on this pretty ranch house constructed a few years ago by one of our most reliable builders. 3 bedrooms, potential basement playroom. Oversized garage, outside storage building. Near and clean. $24,900.

ONE OF PRINCETON'S POTENTIAL SHOWPLACES newly available. Handsome & spacious, inside and out. 4 room garage apartment, reversible tennis court. Everything anyone could want, in there; all it needs is a bit of landscaping. Asking $150,000.

ALMOST ONE ACRE OF TOWNSHIP LAND goes with this good-sized Colonial, built in 1931, happily inhabited over since. Separate dining room, paneled den, 2 1/2 baths, screened porch. $35,500.

ALMOST AS OLD AS THE WOODS BEHIND IT! Quietly built, clean, sunny Borough Dutch Colonial, particularly can be interestingly expanded or comfortably lived in as is. The land alone—3 1/2 acres with old trees and lovely greenery—is nearly worth the asking price. $14,500.

NESTLED INTO A SMALL HILLSIDE on a small Township road, 4 bedroom front-to-back split, 2 living rooms, both with fireplace, kitchen with eating area. Pretty house, pretty grounds. $42,500.

EARLY AMERICAN FINESTONE COUNTRY HOUSE, 10 rooms, including morning room, oil, library, 5 bedrooms. Attic studio. Stone great house, barn, stable wagon house woodshed (complete with year's supply of firewood!), 14 acres of lawn, field & woods. $14,500.

LAURENCE TOWNSHIP 3 THREE ACRE BUILDING SITES. Can be purchased together or separately. High land, pretty pastoral view. Very fine country residential area. $15,000.

CONVENIENT TO TOWN, UNIVERSITY & RIVERSIDE SCHOOL. With its two-story home, renovated with aluminum siding (distinguishable from claspboard only by an expert eye), 3 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, separate dining room. Very appealing, quite private lot. $14,500.

AN INTERESTING BLEND - A typical split-level plan with all the practical benefits but really enhanced with some contemporary touches. The exterior is mellow white washed brick. The interior has a full height stairwell and latticed balconies looking down to the carpeted living room
with its fireplace wall and wide window with sitting rail. The separate dining room glows with indirect lighting. Doors from both the dining room and a convenient kitchen lead to a screened, flagstone porch. A children's playroom is on the lower level, while the upper levels have live bedrooms and two baths. Two-car garage. In quiet, safe Edgewater and protected
at the back by the shady Hun School Hall. $58,500

ENJOY THE SOFT DAYS OF SUMMER
in this tree shaded Victorian-style house in Rocky Hill. Seven rooms,
two baths, full cellar, enormous attic,
new heating system, and central air conditioning. Plus a sparkling new swimming pool completely fenced, with full filtration system and a heater.
stretch the swimming season. For the fall, the children go to the Princeton schools. Only $33,900

STONE VICTORIAN whose classic lines are still very much there, but the interior needs complete restoration (and we do mean complete).
Countless rooms, three fireplaces,
six bathrooms - more than 4000 square feet under roof. To one side, there is a small stone building which would make the most attractive guest house anywhere. More than an acre dotted with towering shade trees. Near Saw-den Lane. $55,000

VERY HIP in the real, that is. A new Colonial with a hipped roof and good lines on an acre just north of Prince. Wide entry hall, living room, paneled study with fireplace, separate dining room with chair rail and spacious kitchen with family breakfast area. On the second floor, a master bedroom with bath, plus three other bedrooms and bath. Full basement;
two-car garage. $36,900

EVEN IN SUMMER this comfortable town house has much merit. A center hall runs the full house depth, and the living room, dining room, and study are spacious and cool, with high ceilings. Kitchen, buller's pantry, and extra room for laundry or playroom. Unusual three sided brick terrace accessible from French doors from the living room or the dining room. Four bedrooms, three baths, plus servants'
rooms. Full third floor. Small garden.
Garage. $48,000

NO CURVES HERE. A straight forward Colonial just five years old with mellow cedar shakes. An ample center hall opens to a formal dining room and sunken living room with fireplace. Paneled study, well equipped kitchen with dining area, powder room. Beautiful breezy screened porch. 4 bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths upstairs. Full cellar and two car garage. Well landscaped grounds. $31,500

TR Rustic Charm With Modern Convenience

We're building it with all of the modern conveniences that you can possibly desire in your home.

Set in an oasis of beauty just 2 miles from Princeton Township on approximately 1 1/2 acres, the house is classic in lines and was designed by William Thompson, Architect.

This traditional beauty features all the charm of an old Colonial and none of the inconvenience. A fireplace in the living room, game room, and master bedroom enhance the illusion of old world living. Four bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths and 2 car garage are only a few of the assets. Why not give us a call and get the details.

THE GREAT ROAD PLAYERS share a final hour of punch with the audience after Sunday night's performance in the Princeton Day School theatre. A zoning problem, compounded by money troubles, has the Players in a last-ditch fight for survival. Story this page.

News Of The THEATRES

ZONING SCORES TWO
On Great Road Players, The Great Road Players, who recently survived a round with the tax collector, have now been whittled by the Township zoning officer. All performances at Princeton Day School have been cancelled.

Caught on Friday in a real-life drama, the Players have emerged from a week-end of somnolence in a delicate state of balance between "if" and "maybe."

"Only a miracle can help us," is the appraisal of John Lithgow, executive director. Young, talented, and highly respected by older Princetonians interested in the theatre, he has spent the week-end fighting for the Players' survival.

The cast in this week's episode includes an anonymous "angel" who offers $3,000 to the Players if: 1) they can find another theatre; 2) if they can raise matching funds. The deadline is this weekend. (See Mailbox, page 20.)

Murray Theatre—Maybe. Also mounting to the rescue (and checking the fifth first) is Theatre latine President Edward Tawney, who says, "Murray Theatre will be available."

The University Players were very fine until they got more and more delighted from the university. They went Equally last time, became an off-Broadway thing. They left horrible debts.

This is a talented new group. I was particularly interested in John Lithgow. He entered Princeton High School in his junior year, and was elected president of the student council the next year. She noted that he is among the most promising students of drama at Harvard.

Good Audience Response. "I enjoyed the Mollere," she went on. "I thought it was ingenious. On Friday there was a great deal of audience response. They are experimenting with different techniques and their own abilities."

Their approach to the Mollere was pretty good," adds Munroe Wade. "It is a matter of deft timing. Their presentation." —Continued on Page 21

"Out of the Blue." "This came out of the blue," Carl C. Storey, PDS business manager said. "I am upset about the whole thing. The Players were just getting off the ground."

According to A. Munroe Wade, "The PDS trustees were interested in having the Day School used for community purpose. They were enthusiastic about a cultural activity for the community in the school building. Some were interested in hacking the Players."

But faced with the realization that every new use of the school not specifically mentioned in the permit requires separate trip to the zoning board and harassed by its skating rink and parking lot problems, the school trustees closed out the Players in a letter of regret on Friday.

"We all welcomed these young people because we wanted to get back to what the University Players used to be," Mrs. Herbert McNeany, says of the five incorporators of the Great Road Players. It is an asset to the community to have something

IT'S NEW To Us

NEED A CABINET?

Go to Woodstock Associates in right out there, behind that dusty-leaved tree, and what could be a better time to plan the remodeling you want to do?

If you need complete new kitchen cabinets or just a pine woodbox to hold the logs for your study fire, take your thoughts to Woolsey and Cadwallader, the lumber yard and shop in Pennington.

Woolsey & C. has been sawing, planning and dovetailing since 1896, and they have a shop bigger than anything you've seen since the last time you were in Palmer Stadium; in fact, this yard is so big and so well-equipped to do anything in woodwork that it was a subcontractor during World War II for pre-fabricated houses.

Walk into that tremendous shop, and then think back to your little power saw in the garage. Here at Woolsey and Cadwallader you'll find a work table 12 by 20 feet. It's used when carpenters want to lay out the whole wall of a house, and in that huge, buzzing shop it's almost lost—just another one of the work areas, that's all.

Across the wide aisle is another big "table" this one quite unique: the only set-up in New Jersey designed especially for plywood. Four vertical vacuums suck the splinters as the sawing progresses.

Along the opposite wall is a 50-foot length of rollers so the lumber without lifting.

Planners, joiners, specialized saws—the place is really a little factory. But don't be shy about talking over your own wood plan because Woolsey and Cadwallader is equipped to do anything: a corner bar for the den, made to fit its niche precisely; a dry slug for plants, like the old-fashioned cress that are sometimes hard to find today; an indoor planter for a sunny window.

And we mean it about kitchen. If you want new cabinets, ask for Bill Robertshaw and talk over your ideas with him. If your long on longings but short on ideas, Mr. Robertshaw will make suggestions and draw up the plans for you.

Major alterations and remodeling are in the day's work, too. A current project is the construction of an entire fireplace wall with Colonial mantel, Colonial raised panel bookcases. The firm often works right along with the building contractor, but you don't need a contractor—just bring yourself.

Formica work, dormer windows, glass inserts, vanities for a remodeled bathroom. You know the variety of things that can be done around a house.

There is no charge for estimates, and financing can be arranged with so down payment and several years to pay.

COOL

Showers Today. Matchableness. "Summer Shower" of cologne for $2.50 in Matchableness's favorite "Summer Shower" scent. It comes in spray mist, too, and perfumed dusting powder, and roll-on deodorant bubble-bath and perfumed bath soap, and how dare you be hot!

Revlon's "Aquamarine" has a nice aqua packaging that cools you down just to look at it. "Silk of Aquamarine" is a hand and body lotion to keep you smooth as well as cool. A spray bath powder is wonderful, and so is the spray mist in faceted bottle. This one is in travel size.

In fact, anything connected with a house except plumbing and electricity is in a tall, sunbroom line at Woolsey and C.

Jean Nate — we don't have French accents in stock at the moment, but you already know it's pronounced "Natty" — suggests the moisture massage for a soft, cool and scented skin.

Diorissimo, from the house of Dior offers to Thorne customers a $3.50 special cologne and aftershave. Don't you like that black-whitehound tooth package, though? Almost "pop."

Parfums Well nudges in with special, too. It's "Antelope" in spray mist for $5, perfume FREE.

And Yardley cultivates the season by presenting your hostess with three cakes of soap and ten bandsome splashy quest towels, all in a package. The famous old Yardley Lavender comes with a print of happy blue, and Red Roses in — a rose print.

Revlon's Eterna Cream '27 is yours if this is the summer we've decided to look younger. It contains proreption. Thorne's offers it $12.25 value (six-ounce jar) for $8.50.

Tell your teen-agers with the bangs about Du Barry's All-Clear medicated shampoo in — Continued on Page 23.

What? Meet?

Yes, Whinnit. What the founders of Woolsey and Cadwallader, back in 1896, would think of their lumber yard selling aluminum siding is unthinkable. "New-fangled" is quite likely the adjective that would be used.

Today, however, the Pennington lumber firm is just as glad to discuss aluminum siding for your house as pine shingles for your kitchen.

News of The Theatres

 sensation of "Wayzack" showed great ability on the technical side and was able to play, I think they should have opened with the Mollere, as they wanted to the board favored Wayzack; but we were wrong. "They are trying to do good stuff," he adds. "As a summer group, they would be well up on the scale."

The Players' board of trustees held a planning session on Tuesday at 5 p.m., their first opportunity to gain a quorum since last week's disaster. Stuart Duncan, president, John Lithgow, vice president, Mrs. DeWitt Smith, secretary, and members include Fred Blalock, Morris Kinman, Arthur Lithgow, Mrs. McCarty and Mr. Wade.

The Players have been invited by Amir Safra of the Open Air Theatre at Washington Crossing Park to present the Mollere forces on Friday and Saturday, August 4 and 5. At a meeting of the company on Monday, howe plans were made to repeat the three plays somewhere in the Princeton beginning August 9.

Arthur Lithgow, father of John and director of the McCarty Theatre, said of the situation, "As far as Princeton and the McCarty are concerned, there is no question that we must be participants in some kind of summer and winter interships for the development of the professional theatre. Just how we can become involved in this matter for University study. Where the Players are concerned, no one ever dreamed there would be this zoning problem."

HANSEL AND GRETEL SET For Washington's Crossing. The Princeton Opera Association will perform "Hansel and Gretel" Friday and Saturday night, 7:30 at the Washington's Crossing State Park open air theatre.

While the opera is fundamentally an adult folk opera based on the well-known story by the Brothers Grimm and written by German composer Engelbert Humperdinck, its fairy-tale aspects have great appeal for children. It had its premiere on December 23, 1903, at Weimar and became the first of many fairy-tale operas.

The opera is under the direction of Igor Chibrikov of the Baltimore Civic Opera Company and will blend with the surrounding scenery, since most of the story takes place in the forest. Feature singers include Norma Barnes and Ruth Mattern who will alternate as Hansel; Keith Needham and Louise Zerkow, alternating as Gretel; Muriel Long as the mother; Norman Allen as the father; Virginia Cole as the witch; Vi Ponisi as the andman; and Mary Eroyd as the Dew Fairy.

The gingerbread children will be Boyd Barnes, Stefan Barnes, Holly Edinger, Christine Schley, Suzie Strader, Vi Ponisi, Diane Ponisi, Doug Ponisi, Andrea Bernardi, Donna Bernards, Leonard Woodward, Alex Grosten, Monica Negus and Christopher Negus.

Tickets may be purchased at the University Store and Maple Book Store in Princeton or at the door. The price is $1.75 for adults and $1 for children.

AT NEW HOPE: George Rayburn has the leading role in "The Impossible Years," which opens at Bucks County Playhouse through August 6.

GINSBERG: TO APPEAR At Sundance Theatre, Allen Ginsberg, leading poet of the "beat generation," will read his poetry this Saturday at Sundance, the festival theatre near Upper Black Rock, Bucks County, Pa. This Friday evening at the theatre, the Claremont String Quartet will give its final concert of a Beethoven cycle.

Ginsberg, who has taken a prominent part in demonstrations protesting American policy in Viet Nam, has won a Guggenheim Fellowship and other awards for his work. Also reading on Saturday will be Peter Ganach Orlovsky, Ginsberg's long-time companion.

The Claremont String Quartet's Friday concert will conclude a three-program cycle of nine Beethoven Quartets. Numbers performed will include Quartet No. 6 in B-flat Major, Op. 18 No. 6, Quartet No. 9 in C Major, Op. 58 No. 3, Quartet No. 12 in E-flat Major, Op. 127.

Future programs at the Sundance will feature the New York Chamber Solists, a quartet with oboe, violin, viola and cello, and a program of dance by Katherine Lutz, Allen Fushoff and Remy Charlip on the weekend of August 5 and 6.

PLAYHOUSE AND PRINCE Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? (now playing) is a grim, sordid, emotionally powerful picture, transferring Edward Albee's long-running stage hit to the screen without loss of impact.

It is far-and-away the best Elizabeth Taylor-Richard Burton achievement to date. It also establishes a new high mark in the use of foul language in film.

The picture tells the story of a night-long drinking party given by a middle-aged college professor and his frustrated wife. Their guests are a young faculty, and his wife, in the course of endless drinking, joking, lying, laughing, quarreling and telling-tall, the many-sided characters become revealed.

Miss Taylor's portrayal of the blowsy, vulgar wife is the best performance of her career. Burton's version of the harried history instructor is a textbook example. George Seitz and Sandy Dennis contribute mightily in the supporting roles.

The film stands to satisfy all manner of adults — those who are continually seeking the different entertainment, starkness in drama, the thrill of illicit romance, the shockingly raw language that issues out, etc. It keeps viewers off balance because by the time one situation subsides, another is brewing.

CROWDS JAM PLAYHOUSE
For Burton-Taylor Film. An estimated 7,500 people saw "What's Afoot" at "Virginia Woolf" in the film's first five days at the Princeton Playhouse.

Manager Richard W. Knight, who turned away more than 100 patrons Saturday night, says the movie "has broken every record right down the line" — the biggest opening day, biggest Friday, biggest week we've ever had!

A rare sight for Princeton was Saturday's crowd, which by 9 p.m. extended from the theatre lobby, around the corner and down John Street. Two police cars were dispatched to keep the traffic clear.

Adding to the confusion was the arrival of an ambulance from the Princeton Fire Aid & Rescue Squad in response to a call that a man had suffered a fall in the waiting line. Police said they were unable to find the victim and the hospital listed no admission.

GARDEN

Lady L. (now playing) This is lightness and nonsense all the way, dressed in color and abetted by good performances. The "name" cast includes Sophia Loren, Paul Newman, David Niven, Claude Dauphin and Peter Ustinov. The story is of romantic adventure in the 19th Century, involving fantasy, plot by an aristocrat and high living. Miss Loren in the title role is a poor Corsican by birth who meets romance as a laundress for a Parisian brocade. Newman is the aristocrat torn between revolution and Louise. Niven appears as Lord Lendale who loves Louise, giving her his name though he knows she is pregnant by the young revolutionist.

The film pokes fun in many directions — the English, the French, politicians, high-breakers and the foibles of human nature. A special delight is the use of locales in Paris, Southern France, Switzerland and Yorkshire, England.

photo tube. Girls in vest-bangs or low-cut hair styles sometimes have pumpy foreheads from the city hair. This medicated shampoo cleans the hair so ruthlessly that no bacteria dare to show their faces $1.50 per bottle.
The cure to the medicinal side-sort of, is Thorne's offering of Max Factor's Strong-Hold Finishing Lotion. It is a strengthening liquid which also cleans. Apply it to a broken mane and it will hold the split nicely while the hair grows.

Travelers will want Wash 'n' Dry for replacing grubbiness with freshness — $1.50.

Clay Street Not "Skid Row."

To the Editor of Town Topics: We, the people of Clay Street, are disturbed by the story in the newspaper about the shenanigans that take place on our street.

We have been complaining to the Housing Authority and to the Police Department by petition and by telephone call. Our many pleas have been taken lightly by the housing people and practically ignored by the police.

The Housing Authority claims there isn't much they can do. The Police Department tells our residents that this is a public street and we cannot keep young hoodlums and other drunks from streeting trash over our lawns and smashing wine bottles in the road; that we cannot keep noisy street singers from annoying our tenants.

The people that come to annoy us are residents of John Street, Birch Avenue, Leigh Avenue, and many other streets in town and out of town, and they are white as well as Negro youths.

The petition that we took to the police with the signatures of all the residents of Clay Street, and a few on John Street, was never answered. And policemen spoke of that street being skid row.

Could it be that the police think of us? That we are no bodies and therefore our wish as have no meaning? We call the police and they take their own good time about coming.

Can it be that because we live in a housing project that we are not expected to demand respect for our neighborhood? In addition to decent police protection we would like to see signs that demand slow speed so that there will be less danger for our children crossing the street. We would also like to see our parking changes made on the south side to the north because driveways and hydrants take too much of our on-street parking. Our visitors have no place to park. This was brought to the Borough Council but nothing was done about it.

(Mrs. ESTELLE JOHNSON, President, Haysman Homes Civic Association)

How a Wheel Starts

To the Editor of Town Topics: Last evening my husband drove to the city for a ride. He passed Marquand Park and saw a Little League baseball game was in progress. Our son likes sports so my husband stopped on the right side of Lovers Lane in front of a new home near the corner of Stockton Street. No sooner had he stopped when he heard a born brawler behind him.

Thinking it was someone arriving to pick up someone, my husband ignored the horn blowing. Almost immediately a very irate man approached the car, yelled at my husband to get out of his property and grabbed the handle of our car. He intended to bodily remove them.

This man is extremely lucky to be picked up someone, in front of our son, as he is extremely polite and courteous. However, it is most degrading to a Negro man to be spoken to in this manner, particularly in front of his family. Why have I written this letter? Perhaps to see how a riot can be realized just how a riot can start. I believe to think what could have happened had the group attending the game been of other sources.

Charm... or Uncharm?

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I have tried to find out the status on the street light situation along Nassau Street and have failed. I have called the Borough Engineer and he has referred me to Public Safety. They in turn referred me back to the engineer.

One thing I did find out. The Borough Engineer finds nothing objectionable with goose-neck lamps spinning glowing blue light like brass-knives along the charming main street of our town.

Well, I find it objectionable and especially so to a number of people who have contacted me since I wrote my first letter about these lights. There are many solutions to the problem of replacing the old lights.

We could go gas-light style, like the University property, Lake Forest, Illinois, has had them for years.

We could contact the city of Chicago which recently replaced thousands of beautiful incandescent lights along Lake Shore Drive with goose-necks. Or what is new York doing with the Fifth Avenue lamps they just replaced? With imagination and co-operation we can keep charm on Nassau Street without imagination we will meet certain, by have cold, sad, ugliness. I see anyone else interested in keeping goose-necks out of Princeton to call me or drop me a note. Something can be done.

Players Seek Support.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

For as long as we have been in Princeton, the Great Road Players have tried to make themselves an important and valued part of Princeton's summer cultural life, in co-operation with McCarter Theatre. We have planned a program that offers an exciting, experimental version of A. R. Gurney's "Winter Idyll."

Our artistic offerings, however, have been on the level of the service we feel we owe. We have made a constant effort to meet and talk with our audience, hoping to bring them more intimately into a theatre experience.

The people in our group have enjoyed the process of acquainting themselves to the community and the small section of the community which has responded has been truly rewarded. We have now operated for three weeks, giving two shows and rehearsing a third.

Our group is finally functioning as an exciting, energetic company and our audience has grown in size and enthusiasm. We have overcome considerable organizational and political problems, involving

NOTICE

TOWN TOPICS will make every effort, based on information, to publish up to 500 words of any letter on a subject directly affecting the Princeton area. Because of the volume of news items received at the community level, letters on topics of a national or international nature cannot be considered.

Letters to Mailbox should be typewritten if possible, double-spaced, and must be signed for publication. Letters received later than Monday afternoon may be held for use the following week.

Everything from tax laws to truck rentals, and at last we have reasons for being hopeful for our future.

And yet, the Great Road Players may well have to fold if the end of this week, unbeknownst to us and the Princeton Day School, our presence in the School's theatre violated a statute of the Township zoning laws.

On Sunday we performed our last evening at the Day School. Our own enthusiasm for our project has made us look for other locations and other sources of financial backing in the town. But, in such a short time, only a miracle can help us continue.

Fortunately, we have already had a miraculous break; an anonymous Princeton citizen has pledged $3000 towards our continuing operation on two conditions: one that we find a suitable theatre and two, that other contributions from the town match his figure. We are fairly sure that the University's Murray Theatre will be available to us, but we need the support of the Princeton community to keep us going. This letter is a plea to the people of the town to help to meet our audience's conviction as that our presence is valuable to Princeton; we want appreciation. We give the opportunity to prove it to everyone. Contributions may be sent to The Great Road Players, P. O. Box 662, Princeton, N. J.

 ...of the 12 BOMBINGS PROTESTED
 by 19 Institute Scholars.
 Nineteen members of the Institute for Advanced Study have signed a letter criticizing the U.S. bombings in Viet Nam. The letter was sent to President Johnson at the White House.
 In the letter, the Institute members said, "We feel compelled to express our dismay at the recent bombings of Hanoi and Haiphong. Once again the scope of the war has been widened."
 "This is bound to increase the already alarming loss of life and property in Viet Nam and add to the misery of innocent people who have known no peace for more than twenty years. How will all this end?"
 The letter concluded, "The danger of a general war is ever more threatening and the prospect of a negotiated peace has all but vanished."

Sunday a PRCA Rally sponsored by the Buckingham Sports Car Club will take drivers on a time-distance run over a 110-mile course beginning at 8 a.m.
 Other show events will include 15 judgment divisions of the show's automotive flea market, which will display antique cars, sports cars and classic cars as well as Lincoln Continental and Rolls-Royces. Winners will be given awards by the first chosen "Miss New Hope Automobile Show."
 The show is sponsored annually by the New Hope-Solebury Community Association to raise funds for recreational and educational facilities that benefit both children and adults in the area.

LARGE PICTURE AVAILABLE
 In Library Books, The Princeton Public Library has begun a new collection of books in large type which are complete and unabridged editions. They are presented in an attractive, light weight and inviting format.
 Among the selections are the mysteries "450 from Paddington" by Agatha Christie; "Ordeal by Innocence" as well as Christie and "Devil's Reckoning" by Miles Burton. Fiction selections include Warwick Deening's "Portrait of a Playboy," Sir Philip Gibbs' "The Healing Touch" and Dennis Wheatley's "The Forbidden Territory."

Notification includes John F. Kennedy's "Profiles in Courage" (memorial ed.) and Anne Lindbergh's "Gift from the Sea." Librarians are ready to assist those who wish to use these books.

THE BEST NUMBER to call for classified advertising is 924-2200.

At the show itself there will be a mileage beginning at 10 a.m. on Saturday which will feature 40 assorted vehicles testing gas in manufacturers' claims of miles per gallon. On

Checking Accounts Down. One of the few minus signs to appear in the current Index is a four percent drop in the size of checking accounts during the past year. It may be partially offset by a six percent increase in savings, although in the past, both factors in the Index have recorded simultaneous plus signs. An unprecedented increase is shown in the value of building permits issued in Princeton Township, but the jump of 1967's is traceable almost solely to a single undertaking. Of the figure of almost $11 million reported, approximately $10 million is attributable to the multi-physics complex currently being built by Princeton University near Palmer Stadium.

Property transfers are sharply down (68%) in the Borough but are higher by more than double in the Township, where the volume, in any case, is invariably greater. On the other hand, new housing starts in the Township are 46% lower than they were in the spring of 1963. The figure is in line with the trend nationally, as the government's construction directives which result in "tight money" pare down residential construction in all parts of the nation.

NEW CENTER HERE. For ITT Computers, a computer and high-speed data transmission center has been opened in Princeton by ITT Data Services, a division of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation.

Located at 53 Bank Street, the processing center will provide scientific, educational, and government organizations in this area with their first easy access to large-scale IBM 1094 and System 360 computer systems. It will draw users from southern New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania as well.

The new ITT Data Services Princeton Subscriber Center is presently equipped with an IBM 1401 computer system and a high-speed data transmission system. It is linked by communications lines to the division's Eastern Regional Computer Center in Paramus.

Data and programs will be transmitted from Princeton to Paramus for immediate processing and re-transmission of the solutions back to Princeton, where they will be printed out at the rate of 1,000 lines per minute. Expected to be added within the next year are a variety of terminal and console devices that will enable anyone with a minimum of training to "converse" with the computers as one does by telephone and telegraph today.

FIRM IS PURCHASED. CBS Buys Assets. The Columbia Broadcasting System has acquired the business and substantially all of the assets of Creative Playthings, Inc., as part of its program to expand the field of educational systems and materials. The transaction included acquisition of The Learning Center, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Creative Playthings.

Organized in Princeton in 1959, Creative Playthings is the nation's best-known purveyor of three-dimensional educational systems of models for nursery schools and kindergartens. Since 1961, the company has also marketed its products for home use through mail-order catalogues. Frank Caplan, 101 Brookstone Drive, is president of Creative Playthings.

BUSINESS In Princeton

PLUS SIGNS DOMINANT. In Latest Business Index. Continued growth in most segments of the Princeton economy is reflected in TOWN TOPICS Business Index for the spring quarter.

At the same time, figures recording the community's stability and buying power over a five-year period reflect a particularly healthy upward trend. From 1961 to 1966, for example, checking accounts have grown by a third and savings accounts by two-thirds.

The volume of business handled by the Post Office has virtually doubled in five years, with postal receipts for the current quarter now well over half a million dollars. Growth of the Princeton area is also reflected by a 38% increase in five years in the number of telephones in use.

Possibly the healthiest indicator of all is the continuing boom in new car sales—one of the basic factors used to determine the well-being of the U.S. itself. In contrast to the total of 481 reported as of June 30, 1961, Princeton's automobile dealers sold 872 units during the corresponding three-month period this year. The increase is an eye-popping 81%.

A good hospital is something that a community is proud of and works hard to maintain—I have had the occasion of experiencing first-hand the excellent care and unselfish dedication of the Princeton Hospital's staff.

Unfortunately, this picture is marred by the image of the hospital as a neighbor. As an old Princeton resident, it grieves me to say that the Hospital as an institution appears to have no concern for the surrounding community.

No one objects to the necessary expansion and upgrading of facilities, but the high-handed manner and indifference to reasonable complaints of the established residential community is something that I find hard to understand.

Specifically, since the recent expansion of the hospital plant, there has been much more smoke and soot from new chimneys. Perhaps the new unit is not working as well as it should; perhaps you are trying to burn material that should be disposed of by other means, but is it wrong to deny that a problem has been created in a residential area and has not been adequately dealt with?

Also, the public address system has become very loud; it can be heard as far away as Jefferson Avenue. Is the hospital deliberately harassing the neighborhood? Has the medical staff suddenly become deaf in the spring of 1966? Or, are some of the public speakers incorrectly placed or turned on too loud? Similarly, it is difficult to understand why nothing is being done to minimize the noise coming from the new power plant.

I believe that for the best interest of the community, the Hospital Administration should CONSTRUCTIVELY deal with the problem that they are creating in a residential neighborhood in a more receptive manner.

On behalf of the Princeton Chapter of the American Field

Service I would like to thank those families in our community who opened their doors last week to 44 visiting foreign students.

As has happened in years past, a bus load of American Field Service students landed in Princeton for two days of their three-week bus tour through the Eastern and Middle Western United States. The bus trip is the last event of the year for these youngsters. They have just spent a year living with an American family and attending school in one of the 2300 communities across the country that support an American Field Service chapter.

This week they are homeward bound, having learned an incalculable amount about those 30 Princeton families who so generously housed and hosted these young ambassadors. I extend my warmest thanks.

DRINKING AND THE LAW: The question of whether the drinking age should be lowered to 18—the age a youth can be inducted into the service—is frequently asked. Two teenagers who give their view on the issue are David Jones (left) and Bill Weeden.

...I want quite well. You read that it should stay at 21, deal these horrible stories about the kids driving there and I don't think they realize what getting killed: I think it might be they are feeling into. I know if I had a son coming on 18, I wouldn't want him to drink.

Kenneth Strine, York, Pa. member of ROTC unit at Princeton University, technical sergeant in the USAF. No, I don't agree. As a rule, I don't think an 18-year old is mature enough to handle liquor.

Miss Lisa Zalskalns, 191 Library Place, domestic science teacher at Princeton. I don't think it should be lowered. And since this would eliminate these border problems, lowering it here in New Jersey would make a lot between 18 and 21 from drink-of-sense. I think that is where and in private, it might help most of the difficulty come from.

Fred Hutson, 613 Snowden Lane, student, American School, Switzerland. Yes, I can serve in the army, I think he should be allowed to drink also for that matter he should be able to vote too.

Question of the Week

Question: Mayor Patterson has said that in his opinion the drinking age should be lowered to 18, since that is the age young men are asked to serve in Viet Nam. Do you agree?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Dave Jones, Princeton Junction, gas station attendant: Yes and no. I used to think that a person 18 was old enough to drink but there are a lot of people who are not ready at 18. On the other hand, I think the service ages a person a little, gives them more experience, and this should help.

Bill Weeden, Old Trenton Road, senior, PHS: Sure. If you are old enough to die for your country, you ought to be old enough to drink. There are always going to be some people, whether they're 18 or 30, that are going to make a fool of themselves when they drink. It isn't always the 18-year-old that abuses liquor, although that is the way it seems in the paper. That's news but if an older person gets in trouble drinking, it's sort of brushed up and over. I don't think the age 18 but the limit for hard liquor should remain at 21. Lots of states have this down south. Also, one reason for lowering it is that most teenagers can get beer anytime they want, whether it's legal or not, so you might just as well legalize it.

tion, I agree. I think that there should be a general education of young people, say at the high school level, and in positive way of pointing out the responsibilities involved in drinking alcoholic beverages. Initially, at least, it should be limited to 32 beers. This would give them an out. It gives them a chance to learn about drinking yet still holds them in check.

Al Rauch, Princeton Junction, business agent for plumbers and fitters in Princeton: This brings up two questions to me. If you lower the drinking age to 18, then lower the voting age to 18. If they're good enough to give their lives, then they ought to be good enough to enjoy both privileges: drinking and a chance to vote on what they are giving their lives for. They get it any way at 18 today. They get it one way or another.

Robert Strunsky, 104 Hodge Road, television mechanic: I don't agree. I feel that another three years of maturity is very useful in view of the fact that there are so many auto fatalities as accidents in young people who are drinking.

Mrs. Martin Stevens, Philadelphia, housewife: I don't see why not for drinking — my land! If you're in the army what difference does a few beers make, but not for voting. They can follow at 18 but they can't think for themselves at 18.

Patrick McLaughlin, Trenton, messenger for Gallup & Robinson: Yes, I agree. This has been a touchy subject with me for quite a while. I've got a younger brother in the service who is 18 and I feel if you can fight and die for your country, you ought to be able to drink — I feel you ought to be able to vote at 18, too, but that's not the question. I believe if at 18 you can be vested with the authority of defending your country, then the country ought to extend its rights to you.

Charles Booc, Chicago, freshman at the Hun School: No, because I think a person is a minor until he is 21. I don't think anyone should drink until he is 21; you can't handle it before that.

Mrs. Arthur Schwartz, 169 Harrison Street, housewife: I go agree it should be lowered. Kids are going to sneak it anyway, they might as well have it legally. I grew up in New York where the age is 18 and

PEOPLE In The News

David A. Schlager, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Schlager, 42 Crescent Avenue, Rocky Hill, has been awarded an early promotion to Army grade private E-2 after completing basic training at Fort Dix. A 1963 graduate of Princeton High School, he entered the Army in May.

Roger H. McDonough, 270 Spruce Street, has been elected vice-president of the American Library Trustee Association. As state librarian, Mr. McDonough also accepted on behalf of the New Jersey State Library the Architectural Award of Merit from the Association.

Joseph Zuccarello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Zuccarello, 219 Varsity Avenue, Penns Neck, has been accepted into the Army Medical Corps after completing his basic training at Fort Dix. A 1963 graduate of Princeton High School, he was formerly captain of the cadet corps of the Princeton first aid and rescue squad.

Fred H. Klink of 35 Erdman Avenue, a survivor of the sinking of the carrier Lexington in the Battle of the Coral Sea, was installed this week as commander of the Princeton Post 76, American Legion. A six-year Navy veteran of World War II, Mr. Klink later served aboard the converted carrier U.S. Bow on North Atlantic submarine patrol and at Cecil Field, Jacksonville, Fla. He is a native of Iowa, a Princeton resident for 19 years, and secretary-treasurer of the Princeton Water Company.

Douglas C. Metcalf, son of Mrs. Florence H. Metcalf, 215 Hale Street, Pennington, has been commissioned an officer in the U.S. Navy after graduation from Yale University. He entered the service as an ensign.

Donald E. Percer, former administrative officer with the Institute for Defense Analyses in Princeton, has been appointed assistant vice-president of the University of Wisconsin. A graduate of Bowling Green State University in Ohio, he was formerly assistant dean of the College of Letters and Science of the Madison campus.

Dr. David R. Coffin, 143 Monticello Circle, has been appointed the sixth incumbent of the Marquand Professorship of art and archaeology, Princeton University. Professor Coffin, an authority in 16th century Italian architecture and painting, is chairman of Princeton's department of art and archaeology.

Sally J. Lannholm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Lannholm, 162 Cedar Lane, and Julia B. Leverenz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Leverenz, 35 Westcott Road, have been named to the Dean's List at Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pa. They maintained an average of 3.5 or better out of a possible 4.0.

N. Fletcher Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Fletcher Turner, Jr., of Pennington, has gone to Viet Nam as a member of the First Battalion, Fifth Marine Regiment, First Marine Division. A Staff sergeant, he is the Chu Lai area fighting the Viet Cong.

John W. Rhoades, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Rhoades, 225 Hut Road, and Diane E. Wagoner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Wagoner, 4 Hunter Road, will enter Lake Forest College in Lake Forest, Ill., this fall as a freshman. They have been invited to participate in a four-day orientation program beginning September 18 which will precede the opening of classes on September 22.

Richard B. Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob B. Lutz, 231 Merrittown Road, has completed a cooling course at Fort Dix. An Army private, he learned to prepare and serve food in Army mess halls and in the field.

Dr. George L. Sutherland, 713 Prospect Avenue, has been appointed director of product development and registrations for the agricultural division of American Cyanamid Company. Holder of B.S., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in chemistry from the University of Texas, he will be responsible for formulations, analytical methods, residue analyses, metabolism and government registrations.

It was diagnosed by telephone.

The time when a suspected heart patient had to be rushed to a hospital for an electrocardiogram is coming to an end.

Now a doctor can visit a patient's home, take a cardiogram, and send the information over the patient's telephone. (Bell Laboratories engineers have designed—and Western Electric produced—a simple adapting device that attaches to the doctor's equipment and fits over an ordinary telephone receiver.)

The doctor dials a specialist's office, or a hospital equipped to receive the signals. The cardiogram is read, and a diagnosis quickly phoned back.

In rural areas, where a patient may be many miles from a hospital, this equipment is especially useful. A general practitioner can treat his patient at home while getting advice from a heart specialist miles away.

There are no distance limits either. One cardiogram was taken on an ocean liner in the Atlantic and transmitted by satellite to a specialist in France.

Your telephone can do much more than just carry your voice. Sending messages from the human heart is one of many new ways Bell research is adding to the value of your telephone service.

SCHEDULE RELEASED

For Basketball Team. The first appearance of a Princeton basketball team in the annual Quaker City Tournament is a feature of the 1966-67 schedule released this week. Coach Bill van Breda Kolff will take the quietest that Ed Hummer will explain into the Palestra at Philadelphia for games on December 27, 29 and 30. The field will include two of the Quaker City's "Big Five" — LaSalle and Villanova — as well as two other well-regarded eastern teams in Syracuse and Niagara. Rounding out the entries are Michigan State, Louisville and Bowling Green.

Immediately after the new year begins, Princeton will play North Carolina at Chapel Hill on January 2. Other non-league opponents include Lafayette, booked to open the season here on December 1. Army, Navy, Colgate, Villanova and Rutgers.

The Tigers' quest for a sixth Ivy championship eight years will begin on January 5 when Brown will come to Dillon Gym, followed by Yale the next night. Harvard, Dartmouth and Penn are other league games scheduled for January.

The new schedule gives Princeton a better finish than last winter's, which sent the Orange and Black on the road for its last three games. In 1967, the Tigers play their last game away at Ithaca on February 18, and then entertain Columbia, Cornell and Penn at home.

Twenty-one regular games are scheduled, in addition to the Quaker City Tournament, in which Princeton will play either two or three times, depending on how fast they are. There is a possibility that another contest may be scheduled for

Dillon Gym to help fill a six-day gap that occurs between the Colgate game on December 9 and the meeting with Navy on the 17th.

The schedule:

Dec. 1, Lafayette; Dec. 3, Army at West Point; Dec. 5, Villanova at Villanova; Dec. 9, Colgate; Dec. 17, Navy; Dec. 27, 29, 30, Quaker City Tournament at Philadelphia. Jan. 2, North Carolina at Chapel Hill; Jan. 6, Brown*; Jan. 7, Yale*; Jan. 13, Harvard*; Jan. 14, Dartmouth* at Hanover; Jan. 18, Pennsylvania* at Philadelphia; Jan. 30, Rutgers at New Brunswick.

Mar. 1, Pennsylvania*, denotes Ivy League game.

NAVY OVER GREEN, 6-3 Let's Score Five. Led by a one-man wrecking gang in the person of Dave Leete, Navy defeated Green, 6-3, last week in the Princeton Summer Lacrosse League. Leete tallied five of Navy's six goals. Rich Stewart had the other.

Scoring single goals for the losers were Phil Allen, Jay Ringel and John Pettito.

Red maintained its slim hold on first place with a 4-1 triumph over Blue. Bruce Van Ness had a pair of goals and Brian Sullivan and Bill Hunter one each for Red. Sam Stewart's tally averted a shutout for Blue.

The final two games of the season will be held Thursday at Marquand Park. The standings are Red, 2-0-2, Blue and Navy each 2-1-1, and Green 0-4-0.

STANDINGS TIGHTEN

In Soapy Softball Play, Rain and upsets dominated the action last week in the Princeton Business Softball League. In a storm-shortened battle in the Western Division, McGraw-Hill remained in contention for second-place honors by dropping runner-up Accelerator, 5-3.

Home runs by Don Dudash and Howard Wood made the difference in the five-inning game, called by the umpire in the sixth on account of rain. Dudash's first 3 performance at the plate helped Bob Deebius get credit for the victory. The loss dropped Accelerator two full games behind RCA A, but Accelerator still remains two games ahead of McGraw-Hill.

In another upset, Shell Oil

W. WINDSOR WINS, LOSSES
In All-Star Play, The West
Lawrence Americans, who lost the opening game in the national Little League tournament, dropped a 5-0 decision to the Lawrence Americans in their second outing.

In the first game, West
Windsor defeated the Lawrence Americans, 6-1. The winners collected eight hits, most of them in the third inning when they sent eight men to the plate.
In that frame, John Schu-macher singled to right and was moved to second on a bunt
by Kevin Tylus. Singles by Denny Clark, Mark Ellsworth
and Larry Fowler followed to produce two runs. Windsor fourth and fifth on a run-producing hit by Dave Everett and a double by Dave Ziegler, followed by Marty Clark's single.
Clark was the winning pitcher,
showing only a solo home run in the sixth.

In the second contest, the West Windsor bats were silenced by Tom Moore of the Lawrence Americans, who hurling no-hitter, gave up
a walk in the first inning to Denny Clark and then set the next 17 batters down in order, none on strikeouts. The victory moved the Lawrence Americans into the semi-final round of the District 12 division of national tournament.

Next year West Windsor will have a Babe Ruth League, but will be in charge of the League. Further information and applications to play or manage may be obtained by contacting him
at his home on Alexander Road
in Princeton Junction.

CAMPBELL HAS HOT BAT
In PBA League, Ten-year-old Ronnie Campbell has started most of the season for Engine No. 1 in the PBA Little League on the basis of his fielding ability. Last week, he got his first hits of the ses-
son, exploding for two home runs, a triple and a pair of singles to lead his team to win victories.

Against the Lions, Campbell
was 3-for-4 and Greg Kline, 4-for-4. Rich Mige and Kline unloaded solo homers and Campbell hit the first two during the 14-2 rout. Bill Schuling held his lions in check with his second consecutive no-hitter, striking out 17 in the process, high for the league this summer.

Bating averages swelled as an aftermath of Engine No. 1's 21 hit, 20-14 slugfest win over Sportmen. Hill Schu-ling, the leading nine-year-old slugger
in the loop, had a perfect 3-for-3 day at the plate to raise his average to .500. Others in the on the feat were Frank Caponi, 3-for-3; Schuiling, 4-for-5; and Simon Boccassuso, a 3-4 batter, 2-for-4.

In addition, Boccassuso
piled his first league game
allowing eight hits and fanning an equal number. He pitched to all but one man. For the losers,

JUNIOR TENNIS FINALISTS: Finalists in the championship matches for boys and girls 14 and under sponsored by the YMCA are, from left, Mary Lapidas, Susan Valentin, Ted Frisch and Henry Harrison. In the finals on Friday, Miss Lapidas defeated Miss Valentin, 6-3, 6-2, and Frisch knocked Harrison, 6-4, 6-4. (Staff Photo)

George Barna homered and Johnny Ganduso was 3-for-5.

Elsewhere, Engine No. 3 defended its first-place spot by winning a pair, 11-6 over Post 76 and 14-7 over Lions. It has yet to be defeated.
Two circuit smashes by pitcher Scott Ostroff and another by Steve Stone enabled
No. 3 to rally from a 5-0 deficit
against Post 76. Ray Richards, Jim Leaper and Brian Jafferson were the batting standouts
in the victory over the Lions.

Elks dropped Hook and Ladder to the .500 level with a 14-5 win at Buddy Kleeber-ton's a five-hitter for the Elks.
At the plate, Brecy Boccassuso
continued his torrid
hitting with a 3-for-3 performance.
Included were a triple and three RBIs. Tommy Hoffmann added a four-bagger
and a single, and Tony La-Pica had two hits. Tommy Sheeran tripled for Hook & Ladder.

In a barnaboot, the Elks were swamped, 16-7, by Post
76. Bruce Campbell and John Mann drove in 10 runs for the winners. Campbell connecting for a home run. In other games, the Eagles and Sportmen played to a 10-10
tie and the Eagles forfeited a contest to Hook & Ladder.

The standings:

BACK TO THE BALL PARK
 For Judge Gerber and Boys. Judge Louis Gerber made his ninth annual trip to Connie Mack Stadium in Philadelphia with the boys of the Police Baseball League. The trip is sponsored every year by the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association—Local 130 but financed by Gerber.
 Wearing orange and black buttons, the boys sat behind the Philadelphia dugout to watch the Phillies beat the San Francisco Giants in 15 innings. Acting as chaperons for the trip, in addition to the 75-year old Judge Gerber, were David Potts, George Pierre, Jim Kahny and Jack Petrus.

Over the past nine years, about 500 boys have attended a big league baseball game with the former tournament magistrate.
ROCKY HILL TRIUMPHS
 In Swimming Thriller. The Rocky Hill Pool swimming and diving team splashed to a light, 152-141 decision over the Pine Brae Country Club team on Saturday at Pine Brae. The contest was of special importance to Ed and Bruce Nyström, brothers who coached the two teams.
 Jill Agadjanian was the meet's individual star although she swam for the losing cause. She won the girls' 14-and-under 50-yard freestyle, and participated in the victorious freestyle relay, as she took first in the girls' 17-and-under 50-yard freestyle and diving.

Chuck Hester of Rocky Hill won the 10-and-under 200-yard freestyle, the 12-and-under individual medley and placed second in the 12-and-under diving. Tim Valentine won that diving event as well as the 12-and-under backstroke. Debbie Jilison of Pine Brae won the girls' 12-and-under backstroke and freestyle and swam on the winning relay team.
 Jose Freeman of Rocky Hill triumphed in the 14-and-under freestyle and the 17-and-under 200-yard freestyle.

George Bailey, Steve Stroecker, Peter Miller, Bill Tobolsky, Steve Tenny, Billy Sloan and Bill Hilton. An exchange match with a group from the Pennington tennis program, headed by Mrs. Marcio Katz, will be held this week.

LESSONS OFFERED
 In Swimming and Tennis. Area boys are now enrolling in the second session of the YMCA's swimming and tennis instruction program which will begin on Monday and run for four weeks. Tennis classes, open to boys from third grade through high school, will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:30 to 9:30 at the Princeton High School courts under the direction of Bill Humes.

Swimming classes for boys grades one through eight will be given at the YMCA starting Monday and will include instruction for both beginners and intermediates. Lessons will include instruction for both beginners and intermediates. Lessons will be offered twice a week for one month, with classes limited to enrollment.

Individual medley John Billie took the 12-and-under backstroke and freestyle and a 4-legged Rocky Hill won the team relay. Michelle Stoddard won the 17-and-under backstroke and was a member of a winning relay.

HORSE SHOW PLANNED
 For State Fair. A two-day horse show will open the New Jersey State Fair on September 17 and 18 with area riders invited to participate. The events of the show have been sponsored by the Garden State Horse Show and will be directed by C. J. Greig of Trenton and Bruce C. Walter, state fair manager.

There will be 15 events each day, ranging from 4-H horsemanship to adult western horsemanship. Entry fee is $3 per class except for the western pleasure and reining classes on September 18, which are $2. Entries are now being received by C. J. Greig, 2879 Quakerbridge Road, Trenton.

TENNIS PROGRAM GROWS
 In Lawrenceville. The Lawrenceville Tennis Program, sponsored by the Lawrence Township Recreation Commission, has 178 students who have already enrolled and the number is growing. The program features free clinics every weekday morning from 9:30 to 11:30 for five weeks for children 9 and up.

Last week 80 boys and girls in the Lawrenceville and Princeton tennis programs played an informal round robin exchange match. These intermediates from Lawrenceville were Mike Markey, Mary Penrose, Ed Cole, Bruce Cole, Sam Marice, Mary Liz Cahill, Kevin McLean, Howard Isaacson, Carol Elliot, Beth Johnson, Judi Lippincott, Anne Nordrup, Julie Cervanka, Jeff Cervanka and Chris Luth.

Also, Joe Cronk, Lisa Noonan, Joe Fallon, Dave Brown, Bob Levinas, Mark Fisher, Cathy Pokay, Geraldine Farrell, Donna Kreger, Susan Strup, Rick Strup, Dave Nystrom, Jim Humes, Tom Oakeson, Mark Sands and Dave Elliot.

Included in the advanced beginner classes and the junior gold and silver cup groups from Princeton were Steve Sander, Bob Higgins, John O'Brien, Tom Worthington, Barbie Cohen, Dave Mandel, Bob Silverman, Nancy Farley, Mark Lawrence, Richie Benoit, Hope Miller, George Braun, John Morton, Karen Brown, KC Costabile, John Hay, Curtis Hayes, Darren Hicks and Hank Stratton.

Also, Tim Duncan, Ron Kingsley, Zander Lamar, Laura Weber, Debbie Coda, Perry Wallace, Roscoe Pyne, Jim Griffith, John Comby, and Jeff Luke. These top players, as well as the express your appreciation to the staff and volunteers.

OVER 150 YEARS OLD

ABOVE PRINCETON, is driving minutes from Princeton from the Penna R. If that puts you in N. J. to 1 hour.

IN THE SOUTLAND MOUNTAINS, former Colonial mansions, prices are rising fast, as population grows. Move in now for your share — lovely old house beautifully remodeled, with 6 spacious acres at a moderate price plus another 3 acres near commercial area and small Country Store with American Gas tanks on opposite corner. Excellent income, or put in family with family tree and services close by. Here "an older" could get older than the Revolution. New Yorkers don't get the Southern and year round residents "fast" "buildings" more and more substantial homes with cultured surroundings.

They're all yours at an unbelievable $60,000.

A family from Acadia, 29 years in residence has decided to sell, and travel a little.

With this house and land goes their personal love and devotion. We believe you'll love it, too.
